Beach Park July 11th.

It's so glad to feel that the St. Louis convention is over, for it sives us a chance to get something in the paper, while Harris and Boyce and the others are examining strange things along the Pike.

While Cowardin. Taylor and Mackreth Arc chasing the clusive items, we are happy in the thought that we can dangle our No. 7s in the York River and watch the breezes from Ballimore as they come down over the Bay Line route.

We love to sit on the hoard walk and look at the pretty girls in white stockings as they come down from West Point to hear Mose Stein's orchestra play "The Moon Shines Bright To-Night Upon the Wabash" and "Bedelja."

It reminds us of the time when we had a large income, and when we used to go to old Coney and Luna Park.

But you don't have to have much income here. George Guvernator and Mrs. George are charming hosts at the Terminal, and Perkins makes it interesting at the club; so why go off to the mountains and the shore, when right here even our office hey may get his health back?

The muse of poetry comes to us as the breezes hlow our beautiful tow hair about hard.

We love to hear the sweet and gentle As the frisky hobby horses start their As the Irisky noby interest.

We love to hear the frogs in cadence soothing,
While the winds from down the York blow in our face.

The cricket on the hearth is not a To the katydid who sings from top of ee; brown-eyed girl were on the board How happy, oh! how happy, we would Or words to that effect.

We like this place because it is so close to home, and still so far away. And we have made up our mind that we shall spend our vacations here every summer. We have just opened our mail. After putting the bills on file we found a communication from the office boy, who has been spending his vacation at Reservoir Park.

has been spending his vacation at Resulvoir Park.

And we also received a letter from Maurice Schwartz, the cigar merchant at the Lexington. He wants us to get up a "wrastling" match at Beach Park. He says he is the champion of the Lexington Hotel, notwithstanding the fact that Allen Straus has been putting up.

When Charles Reinecke comes down here we will see him and try to get something for Maurice to do.

A NEW COMMANDMENT.

Thou Shalt Not Steal a Look at the Veiled Prophet. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CONCORD, N. H., July 11.-The addition of a new by-law to the rules of the Christian Science Church was announced yesterday. The by-law was promulgated at the request of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, the founder of the deconsiderable annoyance by crawds of Christian Scientists, who awaited the passing of her carriage. The by-law is Section 15 of Article 21, and is headed: "Thou shalt not steal." The text folstudent, or his patient not a member of the mother church, shall daily and conthe mother church, shall daily and con-tinuously haunt Mrs. Eddy's drive by meeting her once or more every day when she goes out, on a penalty of being disciplined and dealt with justly by her Church, Mrs. Eddy objects to said in-trusion, inasmuch as she desires one house for herself. And she, who for house for herself. And sae, who lot forty years has 'borne the burden and heat of the day,' should be allowed this. The only exception to this by-law is on public occasions, when she has the privi-lege of seeing others and of being seen."

Short Talks on Advertising. No. 29

Character is not built in a day. It is the most important thing in life, but it is of allow growth. It takes day after day, week after week, year after year of right living and right thinking to build character. The public must first know who you are and then what you are, before your character is established, and thus it is with advertising. The public must know who you are and what you are. Nor can this be done in a day or a month or year. But day after day and year after year must your name be kept before them and during that time if you are fair and truthful with the public, year character for fair advertising is growing and expanding and the public is placing more and more confidence in your published statements. In time the public come to know you and to believe you and then it is that you reap the full benefit from your advertising; then it is that every word that appears over your name carries force to the public. Nor need all this cost much, A liftle Tee Dee Want Ad. day by day and every day will bring you in close touch with the public; will make your name a household word and will quicken the growth of your character as an advertiser—it cost less than car fare.
